Digital Painting 2014

Inspired by local landscapes, marauding ravens and life drawings, most of my current work is painted using a computer program Painter © Corel, as my artist’s media / tool to produce final, one-of-a-kind archival fine art images.

All my pieces are originals: imagery is drawn on the computer. I typically use drawings created from life drawing / plein air sessions, and “play” (explore the possibilities) with the basic simple image until I find a personal satisfaction with the final work. During the past few years, I have been creating “The Wall” series of figurative paintings: “Off the Wall”, “On the Wall”. I consider these as modern cave paintings, depicting figurative images on various decaying urban walls: peeling paint, spalling stucco, rotting wood surfaces. The figuratives come from 1 – 7 minute poses with a live model.

I treat each printed creation as a one-of-a-kind original. Selected images are printed using Epson Archival Inks (guaranteed to last 100+ years) on 100% acid-free rag paper or other archival papers and stored / framed in an archival tradition.

In the past years, I’ve displayed my artwork in San Francisco & Monterey bay area group shows, restaurants, galleries and universities. Current work has been displayed at the Tannery Art Center, Santa Cruz Art League, the Santa Cruz Mountains Art Center, Art Council of Santa Cruz County, Works Gallery in San Jose, the Davenport Gallery and various on-line web galleries. A listing of these are provided upon request. My web site, www.LindaLevy.com contains examples of all of my artwork.
